

'IT MAKES ME FEEL LIKE A NEW MAN'

I want to talk to men who have pains and aches, who feel run down physically, who realize that the old "fire" and energy which was so evident in youth is absent now; men who can't stand the amount of exertion they could years ago. I want you—if that means you—to see what I have done for others—were just as bad off. That's my introduction. If a friend in whom you had confidence presented some one to you and said, "Jack, here's Brown; he has made good with me, and I trust him," wouldn't you trust him, too?

"Mr. H. A. Lehnardt, proprietor of the Fernando Hotel, Fernando, Cal., a man known to thousands of Californians, a G. A. R. veteran, says that my Belt cured him of Rheumatism, and that he will praise it for all time as the grandest remedy known for that trouble."

Mr. W. F. Quite, Cedarville, Cal., writes, March 10: "Your Belt cured me after I had spent $1000 in useless doctoring."

I have cured thousands of men who have squandered the savings of years in useless doctoring.

My Belt is easy to use: put it on when you go to bed; you feel the glowing heat from it (no sting or burn, as in old style belts), and you feel the nerves tingle with the new life flowing into them. You get up in the morning feeling like a two-year-old.

An old man of 70 says he feels as strong and young as he did at 35. That shows it renews the vigor of youth. It cures Rheumatism, Sciatic Pains, Lumbago, Kidney Trouble. Banishes pain in a night, never to return.

Mr. A. C. Hammond, 330 Pine street, San Francisco, says, March 10: "At the age of 75 your Belt has cured me of general weakness and kidney trouble."

What ails you? Write and tell me, and no matter where you are I think I can give you the address of some one in your town that I have cured. I've cured thousands and every man of them is a walking advertisement for my Belt.

Every man who uses my Belt gets the advice and counsel of a physician free. I give you all that any medical man can give, and a lot that he can't. Try my Belt.

FREE BOOK—Write me today for my beautiful illustrated book, with cuts showing how my Belt is applied, full of good reading matter for men who want to be "The Noblest Work of God"—A MAN. Inclose this ad and I will send this book, sealed, free.

DR. M. G. McLAUGHLIN, 516 MARKET ST., S. E. 11th, San Francisco

A BIG UNDERWEAR SALE IS NOW IN PROGRESS

Two big sample lines containing over 300 pieces of Ladies' Muslin Underwear.

What is meant by "Sample lines?" Simply samples of a manufacturer's complete line, only one of each pattern, which he has sold in advance of his regular line at an extremely low price so that the wholesaler may choose his stock.

We have been so fortunate as to secure two of these sample lines at prices so very favorable that we offer single pieces of underwear to our Honolulu customers at prices little short of marvelous.

Women can get here today as comfortable and prettily made underclothes as they would make at home, in some instances, at prices less than they would pay for the materials.

The proof is to be found at our store. The garments are laid out on our counters for you to inspect; you can pick and choose at will, each garment is stamped with size and price.

These being sample lines, every grade is included from the cheapest to the best, so there are bargains for everyone.

Remember, the sale cannot last more than two or three days. Come early.

WUNDENBERG UNDER FIRE

Sam'l. Parker's Agent
Cross-Examined by Kinney.

There was no rest for the litigants in the Parker Ranch case yesterday, the court sitting both morning and afternoon. Fred Wundenberg was on the stand, Magoon finishing the direct examination in the course of the morning.

Magoon referred to an attempted settlement of the litigation, and the witness produced correspondence in which he suggested a board of three to manage the ranch, to which Carter's attorneys found "insufferable legal objections" as a delegation of the guardian's authority.

Kinney claimed that all the correspondence was not in, and later produced a letter from Carter in which the writer specified that it was only his troubles with Sam Parker that were under advisement, and that he declined Wundenberg's proffered intervention in the removal proceedings brought by J. S. Low as next friend.

Upon cross-examination there was some fierce sparring over Kinney's searching questions. At times Magoon would interpose lengthy objections, and at other times the witness himself would flatly decline to answer until Kinney suggestively called for the bailiff and the court interposed a gentle but effective mandate.

The battle began over Wundenberg's statement that A. W. Carter was not acting in the best interests of the minor in forcing a partition or sale of the ranch. It was the witness's idea that the ranch was too valuable to sell, and that under present conditions it would not bring its true value. It was when Kinney began to delve into the possibilities of the partners bidding against each other to secure possession that interesting financial statements developed.

It appeared that not only had the guardian kept the minor's share free of debt but had accumulated a fund of $250,000 against the contingency of a sale, while Sam Parker's account showed an equal amount on the wrong side of the ledger. The witness thought that a sale under these circumstances looked like an attempt to do up Sam Parker, but admitted that so far as the minor's interests were concerned no better time could have been chosen.

Kinney brought out that, at no time before Parker had ousted Carter as manager and sent Eben Low up to take possession, had Carter taken advantage of the relative financial conditions to force a sale, and asked if Parker was not in better shape now than at many times during that period. Wundenberg strenuously objected to answering the question, and when compelled by the court said he thought Parker worse off now than at any time before the fight was precipitated.

The witness was then asked if he knew why the partition suit, which appeared to be so advantageous to the minor at this particular juncture, was not being pressed. He replied that he understood it was restrained by injunction by this court. He was shown the motion and affidavit of Magoon on which the injunction issued, and to the question as to whose interest Magoon was acting in when he procured the injunction said he supposed he was acting in Sam Parker's interest, to which Kinney rejoined, "Well, we don't know but you're right."

Kinney then attacked the subject of finances from another side, endeavoring to secure an admission that Carter had acted prudently in lining his war chest, instead of indulging in all the expenditures involved in Eben Low's lengthy catalogue of needed improvements. The witness disclaimed any knowledge of what was needed on the ranch, stating that the complaints on that score in the suit were not his complaints. His only grievance was that he had neither been consulted in regard to the management nor allowed to share in the control and commissions. He admitted that he had suggested to Carter that 3 1-2 per cent. was too little, and that they should charge 5 per cent. and divide it between them.

Wundenberg did not regard 3 1-2 per cent. as excessive and both he and Magoon seemed surprised when that was read from the complaint as one of the charges against Carter.

On the subject of consultations Kinney referred to several occasions when Carter consulted directly with Sam Parker, but with one exception, the witness had no knowledge of these conversations. He maintained that he should have been consulted as the trustee under Parker's trust deed, and that he had been ignored.

AN OLD RESIDENT GOES TO HIS REST

One of the oldest inhabitants, for thirty-five years one of Honolulu's most exemplary citizens, passed to his long home yesterday. Daniel P. Peterson died at his residence, Emma square, at one o'clock in the afternoon, aged 79 years, 2 months and 20 days. An acute malady supervening the infirmities of age which had laid him aside from business activity for some years caused the patriarch gradually to fade away to the end. He leaves his wife surviving him after a long and happy union, together with a brother, I. B. Peterson, and three children, namely: E. Wells Peterson of J. A. Hopper & Co., Ltd.; Dr. Chas. A. Peterson, superintendent of the Insane Asylum, and Mrs. A. V. Gear, besides many grandchildren. The late Arthur P. Peterson, last Attorney General under the monarchy, was his son.

Daniel P. Peterson was born at Plymouth, Mass., July 10, 1826, and was married there. He came to the Hawaiian Islands in 1870. From an accountant he became a partner in the ship chandlery firm of A. W. Pelee & Co., whose business was some years ago acquired by the I. I. S. N. Co. At the opening of the Oahu Railway & Land Co.'s line in 1889 Mr. Peterson was its freight agent, but the failure of his eyesight caused him to retire from that position in 1898. Since then he lived in retirement at his home on Emma square, where he had resided since 1875. Only a few days ago he sold the old home and removed to a house directly across the square.

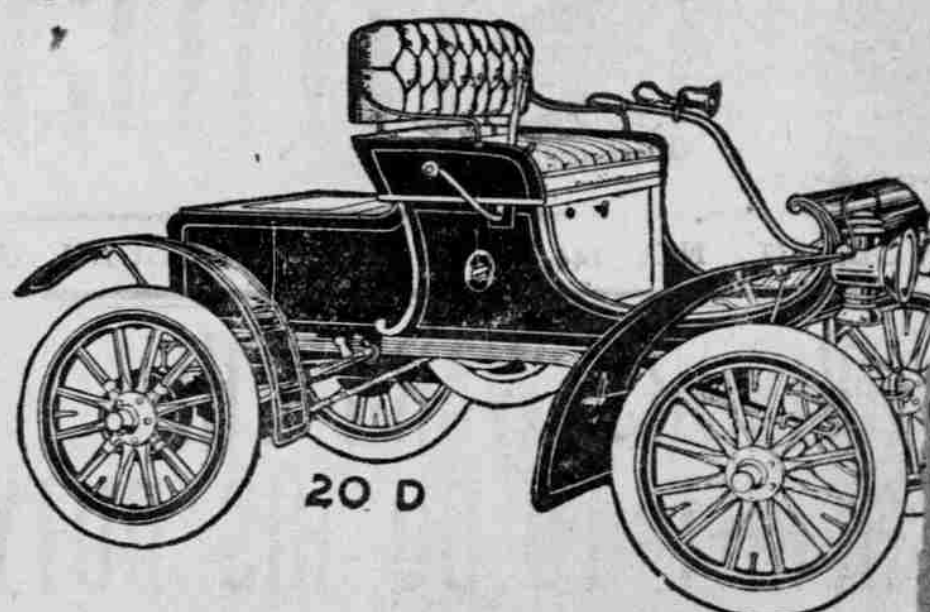

Having well settled religious convictions and being naturally of a quiet disposition, Mr. Peterson was a model man in his walk and conversation. He was a deacon in the Bethel church congregation when that body amalgamated with Fort-street church to form the present Central Union church.

The funeral will take place from Central Union church to Nuuanu cemetery at 3 p. m. today, Rev. E. B. Turner conducting the services.

POLICE FREE PASS LIST CUT DOWN

There will be dire dismay among the casual wearers of police badges today, when the street car conductors require a nickel ante from them before they can ride. A wholesale culling of the police free list has taken place in the current quarterly issue of passes by the Rapid Transit Co. Only the regular wearers of the blue and the khaki, or foot and mounted patrols respectively, are on the privileged list, with which conductors are furnished. Specials can no longer ride on their badges, if these bear numbers other than those on the list. On or off duty, plain clothes or uniform, will make no difference. A listed number will be the sole talisman to influence the conductor. Dozens of pseudo policemen who could take a free airing by trolley yesterday can not do so today.
